About Ian

Ian Elsenheimer takes great pride in his ability to deliver innovative and cost effective legal services to his clients. By practicing in both transactional and litigation settings, Ian's clients receive comprehensive and well-reasoned solutions to their legal issues.

Ian received his B.A. in political science from UCSB in 2013 and his J.D. from USC in 2018. While in law school at USC, Ian earned graduate certificates in both business law and technology and entrepreneurship law, and received high honors grades in numerous courses, including partnership taxation and international human rights.

When not practicing law, Ian enjoys spending time with his family, surfing, playing volleyball, travelling and watching Los Angeles Lakers basketball.

Ian in the Community

Ian is actively involved in the Santa Barbara community, serving as a director of the Santa Barbara County Bar Association, the president and director of the Santa Barbara Barristers and a member of the William L. Gordon American Inn of Court. Ian also serves as a director of the Main-Begg Farmhouse, a local non-profit dedicated to the preservation of a Santa Barbara County Historic Landmark.
